

A Grandparent's Commitment

- I promise to give my best and last years investing in my grandchildren's future.
- I promise to treasure every moment I have with them as a divine appointment.
- I promise I will pray for them regularly, passionately, and expectantly.
- I promise I will be a model of faith and character, and not a critic.
- I promise to be their cheerleader, and respect their parents as their coaches.
- I promise I will pass on to them the stories of faith, family, and country.
- I promise I will listen to them, and study to understand the issues of their lives.
- I promise I will learn from them as I hope they might learn from me.
- I promise I will love them unconditionally, even if they go into the Far Country.
- I promise I won't stand aside, stand down, or stand against, but stand up for them.
- I promise I will learn everything necessary to evangelize and disciple them.
- I promise I will make the personal changes necessary to be a winsome witness.
- I promise nothing will take priority over investing in my grandchildren's future.
- I promise to encourage other grandparents as fellow missionaries to the next generation.
